

SYLLABUS :-

An exercise in critical observation on an existing project. A student may select any small project and trace down its development from early concept design. Procedures adopted in decision making at inception level, series of changes in the process of approvals, constraints such as financial, human and building bye-law. Changes during the execution and changes done by the client after occupation-reason thereof. Users reaction on different aspects, student's personal remarks based on the faculties of balanced critical appraisal. The study is to be presented in the form of series of sketches, photographs, supported by brief analysis and observations etc.